Nifty: On its way towards All-time high

- Nifty continued to trade higher for the second consecutive session, closing above 26150 levels. All the major sectorial indices closed in green with Nifty IT and Metal were among the top gainers. For the day, GIFT Nifty indicates gap up opening and we believe the current positive momentum is likely to continue and Nifty is on its way towards All-time high levels. On the downside, correction towards 26000-26100 levels can be used to create fresh long positions.
- From the options perspective, Call unwinding was seen across multiple strikes as a result there is no major Call base. On the downside, aggressive Put OI addition was seen 26000 and 26100 Put strike which is expected to act as immediate support zone.
- The India VIX weakened sharply in the last few sessions and gave its lowest ever closing last week. While some uptick was seen in the last session and considering upcoming monthly settlement, we believe India VIX may witness continued uptick. The up move in India VIX may be driven by FII's short covering in the index.
- From FII's perspective, they have turned net buyers last in the secondary markets. However, on a monthly basis the net figure remained negative worth ~8k crores. Even in F&O space, the net shorts continue to decline to 1.45 lac contracts from the peak of 1.65 lac contracts suggesting short covering.
- Considering renewed FII buying, we expect broader recovery in the markets and momentum may be seen if Nifty sustains above 26200 levels. However, failure to move beyond this range may keep Nifty in the prevailing range with major support remaining near 26000 levels.

OI (Lakhs)	171.65	174.96	-1.89%
PCR	1.42	1.13	-

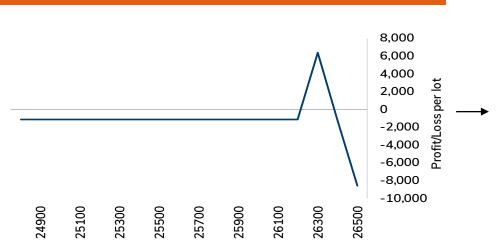

Key Events & Observations

- Sector in Focus: Technology and FMCG stocks are likely to remain in focus in case of continued FII buying.
- FII's net short declined for the second consecutive session and we expect continuation of the current short covering to extend till expiry.
- Crude oil prices gained more than 2% on Monday due to ongoing geopolitical risks in Venezuela and Ukraine.

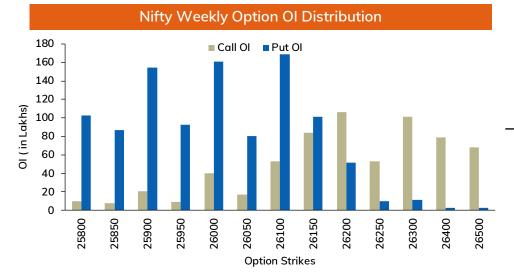

Index Strategy

- Buy 1 lot of Nifty 26200 Call 36-38 & Sell 2 lot of 26300 Call 12-14, Target of 100, Stoploss 1 (Dec 23 Expiry).
- A Bull Call Ratio Spread is an options strategy for moderately bullish markets, involving buying one call (lower strike) and selling more calls (higher strikes) on the same asset/expiry.

- For Weekly expiry, Call base (26200) with ~105 lakh shares is likely to act as major hurdle.
- On the Put side, highest Put base (26100) holds ~ 169 lakh shares.

Institutional Activity...

- FIIs turned net buyers last week which has supported the recovery seen in the headline index. However, on a monthly basis they have remained net sellers to ~8k crs.
- On the other hand, domestic institutions continued with their buying in the equities and they have bought nearly 56k crores in the secondary markets in December so far, limiting the downside in the Nifty.
- In the F&O space, ahead of the monthly expiry, the net shorts in the index futures have reduced marginally and moved to 145k contracts from near 168k net short contracts seen during the series. We believe that a move above 26200 may trigger momentum due to short covering.
- Despite the short covering, FIIs are still heavily long in Put options as the net long in put options have remained near ~200K contracts.

Weekly Stock Recommendation

Buy APLAPO (APL APOLLO TUBES LIMITED) DEC in the range of 1810-1818 Target 1930 and Stoploss 1749.90 (Part Booked)

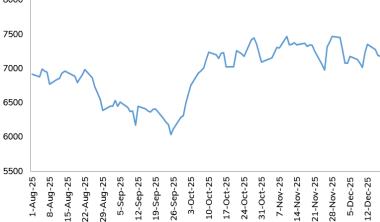

- APL Apollo has been consolidating in a broad range of ₹1,700–₹1,800 since 1800 October and the stock has now broken out of this range. Notably, it recorded 1600 its highest weekly close since July.
- On the futures front, fresh long build-up accompanying the price breakout. 1300 From an options perspective, Call unwinding has been observed across 1200 multiple strikes, easing overhead resistance, while simultaneous put addition indicates that traders are building support at lower levels and expecting the stock to hold its gains. Hence, we believe the current momentum is likely to continue. The stock appears well-positioned to move towards ₹1,930 levels.

Sell NUVWEA (NUVAMA WEALTH MANAGEMENT) DEC in the range of 7200- 8000 7220 Target 6690 and Stoploss 7501

- Despite headline indices trading close to their all-time highs, Nuvama has failed to cross the ₹7,500 level, highlighting clear relative underperformance.

 The stock has also been consistently witnessing delivery-based selling, 6500 suggesting distribution at higher levels.
- On the futures front, open interest has risen sharply indicating aggressive short 5500 build-up. From the options perspective, heavy call OI concentration at the ₹7,400 and ₹7,500 strikes is expected to act as strong resistance, capping any near-term recovery. We believe the stock is likely to breach its immediate support near ₹7,000 and extend its decline towards ₹6,690 levels

Sectors in Focus

Sectorial Analysis

Bank Nifty

- ❖ Nifty Bank index (59069) closed the week negative and relatively underperformed the broader markets. However, we expect declined should be limited and positive bias should be maintained till it is holding above 58500 levels.
- ❖ From the options front, Call option bases are significantly stronger than the Put bases, Hence, only a move above 59500 is likely to extend positivity in the coming sessions.

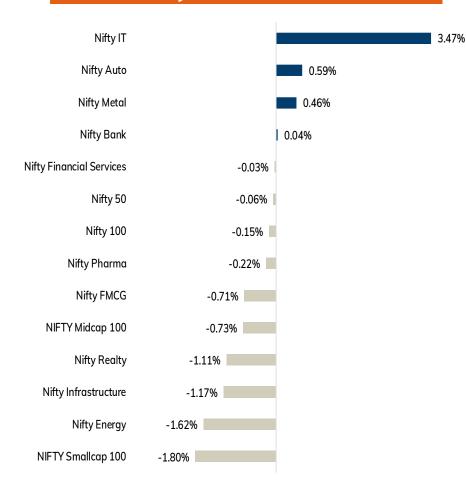

CNX IT

❖ Nifty IT index erased the losses seen in the penultimate week and gained nearly 1% last week. We believe that positive bias in the Technology space may continue amid ongoing consolidation. We expect IT index to remain positive with support near 38000 levels the coming sessions.

Metals

• Metal stocks have witnessed some profit booking last week amid declining prices. However, we don't expect much decline there and the bias remains positive. We expect non-Ferrous stocks are likely to take the lead.

- The options open interest bases help to identify the support and resistance levels for the stock from a writer's perspective. These levels provide a good insight from a risk-reward perspective.
- Most of the Nifty's heavy weight stocks near their major Call bases after sharp recovery in Nifty. A move above that may trigger a round of short covering among index heavyweights. Therefore, any move above the call bases would bring further up move, while sustains below the put bases would trigger fresh round of selling.

Glossary

- OI- Open interest: Open Interest measures the number of open Contracts which are there in the market. This measures the level of activity for the contract held by you and help assess if the contract is being actively bought or sold
- Basis: It is the difference between the spot price (current price) of an underlying asset and the price of its futures contract
- PCR: It is an indicator used to gauge market sentiment by comparing the volume of put options (rights to sell) to call options (rights to buy). A high PCR suggests bearish sentiment, while a low PCR indicates a bullish outlook
- Call Base: It refers to a high number of open call option contracts at a specific strike price. A strike price with an unusually large number of open calls (open interest) is often considered a significant resistance
- Put Base: It refers to a high number of open put option contracts at a specific strike price. A strike price with an unusually large number of open puts (open interest) is often considered a significant support
- Bull Call Spread: A Bull Call Spread, is an options strategy for moderately bullish market conditions where you simultaneously buy one call option and sell another call option of the same underlying asset and expiration date, but with different strike prices
- Bear Put Spread: A Bear Put spread is an options strategy that profits from a moderate decline in an underlying asset's price by buying a put option at a higher strike price and simultaneously selling another put option at a lower strike price with the same expiration date
- Ratio Spread: A ratio spread is an options strategy using unequal long and short positions, like a 2:1 ratio (buy one, sell two), to profit from minimal price movement, though specific types like ratio backspreads profit from large moves.
- Covered Call: A Covered Call strategy involves selling a call option while simultaneously owning the underlying stock/ futures, generating premium income and providing some downside protection, but also limiting profit potential
- Protective Put/ Call: A protective call/put strategy involves buying a call/put option to protect a short/long stock position from adverse price movements
- * F&O Ban: F&O ban are regulatory measures to prevent excessive speculation and maintain market stability. A stock is banned when its open interest (outstanding futures and options contracts) exceeds 95% of the Market-Wide Position Limit.
